

Refugio Response Joint Information Center

Vapors - Are vapors in the air a danger to people?

---

During the cleanup, there will be a smell of petroleum in the air, but it poses no danger to the public at this time. To date, reports show no harmful contaminants in the air. Personnel are continuously monitoring air quality levels at the impacted areas.