CALIFORNIA CODE OF REGULATIONS
TITLE 14, DIVISION 1
SUBDIVISION 4, OFFICE OF SPILL PREVENTION AND RESPONSE
CHAPTER 3. OIL SPILL PREVENTION AND RESPONSE PLANNING
SUBCHAPTER 3. OIL SPILL CONTINGENCY PLANS
SECTION 820.02

Notice Date: August 12, 2016

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Department of Fish & Wildlife, Office of Spill Prevention and Response (OSPR) will be requesting readoption of emergency regulations necessary to protect public health, safety and the environment. The readoption will ensure the immediate and ongoing implementation of protective standards for California's inland natural resources in regard to oil spills impacting surface waters. These emergency regulations were originally approved by the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) and became effective on September 3, 2015. (OAL File No. 2015-0825-04EFP.) This readoption action is being taken in accordance with Government Code sections 11346.1 and 11349.6 of the California Administrative Procedure Act. These regulations will be submitted to OAL after August 19, 2016.

DILIGENT ADOPTION OF PERMANENT REGULATIONS

As required for readoption of emergency regulations, the OSPR has made substantial progress and is proceeding with diligence to comply with Government Code section 11346.1, subdivision (e). (Cal. Code Regs., title 1, section 52(b)(1).) The following actions demonstrate OSPR's progress toward the adoption of permanent regulations:

Since the emergency regulations were enacted in September 2015, the OSPR has engaged in the following:

- In November 2015, OSPR held a workshop in Bakersfield to seek comment regarding the emergency regulations.
- From April 2016, through July 2016, OSPR has held six round table exercise meetings with the regulated community. The purpose was to explain exercise requirements to industry and get feedback.
- In May 2016, OSPR held two workshops, one in Playa Del Rey and one in Bakersfield, to seek comments on a draft of the proposed permanent regulations.

- In July 2016, a representative from OSPR spoke at the California Short Line Railroad Association annual meeting, regarding the status of the draft regulations and took comments. Some attendees indicated they would provide additional written comments.
- In 2016, OSPR has received at least six written comment letters from industry.
- Since September 2015, staff from OSPR has met with industry representatives several times, at their request, to discuss the draft regulations.
- Staff has spent much time evaluating industry's comments, and is still analyzing a few key issues for resolution in the draft permanent language.

A copy of the text of the proposed emergency regulations and the Finding of Emergency are enclosed. These documents are also available for review on OSPR's website at: <https://www.wildlife.ca.gov/OSPR/Legal/Proposed-Regulations>

A readoption of the emergency regulations will ensure that oil spill preparedness and response standards necessary to protect against a present threat to public health, safety and the environment, remain in effect while OSPR works to complete the regular rulemaking process for permanent regulations.

As required for readoption of emergency regulations (Cal. Code Regs., title 1, section 52(b)(2)), there have been no material changes in emergency circumstances since the original emergency adoption of these regulations (OAL file number 2015-0825-04EFP).
