

Eye

Invasives

A California Department of Fish and Wildlife Newsletter Volume 5, Number 1

Greetings!

Oh my how time flies! It's been much too long - nearly a year - since our last issue of Eye on Invasives, the California Department of Fish and Wildlife's newsletter dedicated to providing information about invasive species in California.

Over the past year we have been recovering from our first California Invasive Species Action Week (August 2-10, 2014), and turning right around to gear up for our 2015 Invasive Species Action Week, which runs Saturday, June 6 through Sunday, June 14, 2015.

In this issue of Eye on Invasives we highlight just a few of the groups who have partnered with us in 2015, including the Mid Klamath Watershed Council, the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, and TreePeople, and their efforts to prevent and minimize the impacts of invasive species around the state. We hope you will join one of these groups, or one of the many others with events planned during Action Week. A list of events can be found inside this issue of Eye on Invasives, and the most up to date list is on our website <https://www.wildlife.ca.gov/Conservation/Invasives>. If you aren't able to participate in a group effort, we have also included a couple of actions you can take on your own. Look inside this issue for more information.

We hope you'll join us in California Invasive Species Action Week, and encourage you to share this issue of Eye on Invasives with others who may be interested in learning about California's invasive species and their impacts. We also welcome suggestions on invasive species related topics for future editions, which may be submitted to Invasives@wildlife.ca.gov.

Sincerely,
Martha Volkoff
Invasive Species Program
California Department of Fish and Wildlife

If you were forwarded this email and would like to subscribe to the Eye on Invasives newsletter, click to "Join our Mailing List."

