SUBDIVISION 4. OFFICE OF SPILL PREVENTION AND RESPONSE
CHAPTER 3. OIL SPILL PREVENTION AND RESPONSE PLANNING
SUBCHAPTER 3. OIL SPILL CONTINGENCY PLANS
SECTION 820.02

Notice Date: July 20, 2017

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Department of Fish & Wildlife, Office of Spill Prevention and Response (OSPR) proposes to readopt emergency regulations necessary to protect public health, safety and the environment. The readoption will ensure the immediate and ongoing implementation of protective standards for California's inland natural resources regarding oil spills impacting surface waters. These emergency regulations were originally approved by the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), became effective on September 3, 2015 (OAL File #: 2015-0825-04EFP) and were readopted on September 1, 2016 (OAL File #: 2016-0822-01EFP). This readoption action is being taken in accordance with Government Code sections 11346.1 and 11349.6 of the California Administrative Procedure Act.

A copy of the text of the proposed emergency regulations and the Finding of Emergency are enclosed. These documents are also available for review on OSPR's website at: Drills and Exercises \(Title 14, CCR section 820.02\).

A readoption of these emergency regulations will ensure that oil spill preparedness and response standards necessary to protect against a present threat to public health, safety and the environment, remain in effect while OSPR works to complete the regular rulemaking process for permanent regulations.

DILIGENT ADOPTION OF PERMANENT REGULATIONS

Pursuant to California Code of Regulations, Title 1, section 52(b)(1), OSPR has made substantial progress and proceeded with diligence to comply with Government Code section 11346.1(e) by undertaking the following activities since the emergency regulations were readopted in September 2016:

- In September 2016, OSPR met with staff of the Governor's office to advise on the status of the regulations, and receive direction.
- In October 2016, OSPR met with Cal Fire representatives to discuss implementation of Assembly Bill 864, including its relation to geographic scope of these regulations.

- In November 2016, OSPR met in a joint meeting with industry representatives from the California Independent Petroleum Association (CIPA) and the Independent Oil Producers Agency (IOPA) to receive input on a draft of the proposed permanent regulations.
- In December 2016, OSPR met with the California Council for Environmental & Economic Balance (CCEEB) and has had follow-up communications with this group concerning the development of these regulations.
- In March and April 2017, OSPR had follow up meetings with members of CIPA at their request.
- In May 2017, OSPR met with regulatory and legal staff members at the Department of Conservation, Division of Oil, Gas and Geothermal Resources to discuss coordination of program mandates.
- Since the first readopt, staff from OSPR has met with a variety of industry representatives multiple times, at their request, to discuss the draft regulations.
- Staff has received informal input from the Office of Administrative Law over the past year.
- Staff has spent much time evaluating comments, and is still analyzing a few key issues for resolution in the draft permanent language.
- The text of the regulations that will be submitted for formal comment and approval is very close to being finished. The Initial Statement of Reasons are concurrently being drafted and near completion.

As required for readoption of emergency regulations (Cal. Code Regs., title 1, section 52(b)(2)), there have been no material changes in emergency circumstances since the prior readoption of these regulations in September 2016 (OAL File #: 2016-0822-01EFP).

There have been no changes to the text of the emergency regulation language.
