Training requirements for initial response personnel in the proposed regulations (14 CCR § 830.1-11) are team-based. For each required course, a minimum number of personnel must have completed each course. The number of personnel having completed each course is dependent on a spill management team’s tier classification. This table lists the required training courses only. The proposed regulations contain criteria for training courses and additional requirements for initial response personnel qualification. For full details of initial response personnel training requirements, see 14 CCR § 830.5(e) through (h).

For descriptions of tiers, see 14 CCR § 830.3(c).

For descriptions of on-scene requirements for initial response personnel, see 14 CCR § 830.4(a)(1)(A), (a)(2)(A), and (a)(3)(A).
