

Estimated Daily Reservation Quotas for Opening Weekend of the 2021-22 Waterfowl Hunting Season

Updated 10/05/2021

California is currently experiencing drought conditions, which has reduced the water available for managed wetlands on many wildlife areas and national wildlife refuges. As a result, some wildlife areas and refuges may be closed for waterfowl hunting for the season, while others may open later in the waterfowl season, or have a reduced waterfowl hunter quota. Estimated daily reservation quotas for opening weekend of the 2021-22 waterfowl season are provided below. Please note that these are estimates based on current and projected water availability and are subject to change; this table will be updated as more information becomes available. Also provided below are average quotas for past opening weekends and quotas for areas when fully flooded. For 2021-22 quota estimates on federal wildlife refuges please visit those areas' web pages (links to those pages are in the table below).
