Newhall website

The Newhall website (www.dfg.ca.gov/region/5/newhall) does not appear to be functional. Please let me know when I will be able to access the Newhall EIS/EIR through this website.

Thank you,

Zooey

055. E-mail from Zooey Diggory, Stillwater Sciences, dated April 27, 2009

Response 1

The comment states that the website providing access to the Draft EIS/EIR was not functional. On April 28, 2009, CDFG Senior Environmental Scientist Betty Courtney contacted Ms. Diggory of Stillwater Sciences via telephone. Ms. Diggory explained that she was unable to access the website (www.dfg.ca/region/5/newhall) on Friday afternoon. Ms. Courtney explained that the website became operational on the evening of Friday, April 24, 2009 after 5 p.m., and noted that the official comment period began on Monday, April 27, 2009. Ms. Diggory attempted to access the site shortly after sending the e-mail on Monday, April 27, 2009 at 8:45 a.m., and was able to successfully view the site. Ms. Diggory needed no further assistance, and had no other questions. The comment will be included as part of the record and made available to the decision makers prior to a final decision on the proposed Project. Because the comment does not raise address the content of the Draft EIS/EIR, no further response is provided.
