

A Summary of Lobster Report Card Data 2008-2015

The Department is making a focused effort to improve estimates of recreational lobster effort and catch by taking action to increase the number of report cards returned each year. It is extremely important (and required by law) for ALL PEOPLE WHO PURCHASE REPORT CARDS to submit their completed cards on time, even if they did not fish for lobster.

Summary of Report Card Returns 2008-2015

* Because the lobster report card was implemented in the fall of 2008, CDFW only has report card data for the latter half of calendar year 2008.

Year	Number of Cards Sold	Number of Cards Returned	Percent Return Rate	Number of Returned Cards that Did Not Fish	Number of Returned Cards that Did Fish
2008*	27,472	5,987	22 %	749	5,238

2014-15 (season)	21.7%	28,530	3.91	111,552

Summary of Report Card Total Catch Estimates 2008-2015

* Because the lobster report card was implemented in the fall of 2008, CDFW only has estimates for the latter half of calendar year 2008.

 2013 “Estimated Number of Total Lobsters Kept for All Cards Sold” includes the estimate for total number of lobsters kept on 2013 calendar year cards (147,730), PLUS the estimate for number of lobsters kept in September, October, November, and December on 2013-14 full season cards (77,225).

 2013-14 (season) “Estimated Number of Total Lobsters Kept for All Cards Sold” includes the estimate for total number of lobsters kept on 2013-14 full season cards (143,129), PLUS the estimate for number of lobsters kept in September, October, November, and December on 2013 calendar year cards (97,359).

Year	Number of Lobsters Reported Kept	Avg. Number of Lobsters Kept per Trip	Estimated Number of Total Lobsters Kept for All Cards Sold	Estimated Weight of All Lobsters Landed (lbs) 	Percent of Total Landings (commercial + recreational) for Same Time Period
2008*	47,633	2.12	220,660	353,056	38%
2009	43,642	2.22	328,267	525,227	43%
2010	31,805	2.10	267,053	427,285	37%
2011	49,534	1.95	301,749	482,798	39%
2012	81,399	2.02	258,158	413,053	32%
2013	70,153	2.08	224,955	359,928	32%
2013-14 (season)	67,722	1.62	240,488	384,781	32%
2014-15 (season)	114,562	1.93	215,295	344,472	26%

 The estimated weight of all lobsters landed is calculated by multiplying the estimated number of total lobsters kept for all cards sold by 1.6 lbs, which was the median weight of kept lobsters observed during a 2007 CDFW lobster creel survey.
