

KEEP ME WILD™

Mountain lions, black bears and other wildlife may be your neighbors here.

- Don't feed deer—you will attract mountain lions
- Deer-proof your landscaping
- Trim brush to reduce hiding places for mountain lions
- Don't leave small children or pets outside unattended
- Install motion-sensitive lighting around the house
- Provide secure shelters for sheep, goats, and other vulnerable animals

If you encounter a mountain lion do not run; instead, face the animal, make noise and try to appear as large as possible.

If attacked, fight back.

You may be attracting mountain lions to your property without knowing it.

Pets, livestock and even people are potential prey to a mountain lion. Although mountain lions prefer deer, they may turn to alternate food sources if they're available. That's when conflicts occur.

Keep them wild.

If in doubt about what to do, ask your local Fish and Game warden, park ranger, or law enforcement officer. Or visit our website:

www.keeptomewild.org

A campaign supported by the California Department of Fish and Game

