WRIGHTS LAKE INLET AREA:

EL DORADO CO.

Mike Farmer reports that the pools in which he observed stranded fish should be checked again. He says that the holes contained fish but fish could not be seen. Holes are probably dry now.

Note that Nyberg and Evans could find no stranded fish during their inspection of the area in June.

In conversation with Mike Farmer, was able to establish that these stranded pools were in the meadow where the stream from Smith, Grouse, and Hemlock Lakes is tributary to Wrights Lake inlet creek. Former inspections by Nyberg and Evans, and by myself and J.D. Hall, were all made on stream in lower part of meadow. If possibility of stranded pools is checked again, should be done in Grouse Lake outlet.
